

The Dental Council of Hong Kong
Report Form for Self-study CME Activities

I. Particulars of applicant

(a) Name _____ (b) Dental Council Registration No. (if applicable) _____

(c) CME Programme Enrollee CDSHK DH HKDA (d) Report Date _____

II. Details of self-study CME activities

(a) Information on the self-study material(s)

Title of paper/book/chapter(s)/e-learning material(s): _____

Author(s): _____

Journal/vol./pages/edition/yr published/pages/websites: _____

(b) Time spent: _____ hr(s) _____ mins

(c) Summary

--

(d) Critical assessment of the value of the material studied

For official use only:

CME points credited:

Checked by:

Date:

Guidelines :

- 1) The self-study materials must be dentally or medically oriented including i) scientific papers; ii) books/book chapters/monographs published by professional publishers; and iii) network educational programme/e-learning materials presented by academic institutions, professional bodies or government agents.
- 2) The summary should describe the background of the subject area, main contents of the material and conclusions or suggestions (150-200 words).
- 3) A critical assessment should be submitted, consisting of a brief review of the subject area and rationale for the issue, scientific values of the material, clinical implications, critical views, recommendations and perspectives etc (100-200 words).
- 4) The report form should be submitted to the respective CME Programme Administrators and will be assessed individually by the CME Programme Accreditors on the credit points to be awarded. One credit point should be awarded per paper and a maximum of 5 points can be awarded for self-study CME activities each year.